Get away from it all with this excellent cycle guide, and there are few places in England where cycling is as enjoyable as in the North York Moors National Park. From the lush, lowland countryside, admire spectacular coastal views and visit picturesque villages with their welcoming pubs and cafes. Or venture onto windswept moors and up the exciting hills of this cyclists' paradise. Almost all the routes are off-road, but don't worry about getting lost! Roy has included a unique navigational system, making it almost impossible to lose your way (you're more likely to lose track of time as you get wrapped up in the beauty of the National Park!). The routes are equally suited to experienced riders and those new to mountain biking, with great tips on safety, navigation and route-planning. All 20 routes are circular and range from 7 to 32 miles in length, with suggestions for tagging routes on to each other for longer rides - up to 150 miles for the really keen among you! There are over 300 miles of legal cycle routes here, waiting for you to discover!
